

17th ANNUAL

The Los Angeles Business Council's SUSTAINABILITY SUMMIT

Friday, September 22nd

7:00AM - 3:00PM

TOWN AND GOWN, UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

REGISTER NOW

Join us on September 22nd at USC for the Los Angeles Business Council's SUSTAINABILITY SUMMIT in partnership with USC President Dr. Carol Folt, USC Sol Price School of Public Policy, and the USC Schwarzenegger Institute for State and Global Policy.

This year's Summit will focus on local, state, and federal clean energy goals, advancing toward zero emission transportation, managing water resources, and how to best capitalize on the billions of dollars of incentives from the IRA, IIJA, and California state budget.

We are also excited to announce that we have commissioned a study with the METRANS Transportation Consortium of USC to analyze the size of the zero-emission truck market, the potential economic benefits and costs of transitioning to zero-emission trucks following California's Advanced Clean Fleets rule which will ultimately eliminate diesel trucks in California. The results of which will be shared and discussed during the Summit.

CONFIRMED AND INVITED FEATURED SPEAKERS

Mayor Karen Bass
City of Los Angeles

LA Councilmember
Katy Yaroslavsky

Carol Folt
President
USC

Cary Kottler
Chief Development Officer
Pattern Energy

Veronica Padilla
Executive Director
Pacoima beautiful

Mary Powell
CEO and Director
Sunrun

CONFIRMED MODERATORS

Michael Northrop
Program Director
Sustainability Development
Rockefeller Brothers Fund

Mary Nichols
Former Chair
California Air Resources Board

Sammy Roth
Energy Reporter
LA Times

Sponsors

Co-Chair

Gold

Silver

